Students select optional courses to attain a minimum of 240 credits in their study programme. Each student selects at least two of the listed optional courses.

A doctoral student who graduated from a study programme or finished a part thereof, or has been studying in a different programme at another university in the Czech Republic or abroad, may apply in writing for recognition of a previous part of his/her studies or for separate exams. To recognize the application, the field of completed study or a part thereof is considered, as well as the study results, the results of creative activities and the time elapsed since the previous studies. The supervisor submits the proposal for recognition of part of the studies and the decision is made by the Dean of the doctoral student's faculty after a hearing is held by the Council for Doctoral Studies.
